

Social Education

Volume 71

January/February 2007: No. 1, pp. 1-52

March 2007: No. 2, pp. 53-108

April 2007: No. 3, pp. 109-164

May/June 2007: No. 4, pp. 165-216

September 2007: No. 5, pp. 217-284

October 2007: No. 6, pp. 285-336

November/December 2007: No. 7, pp. 337-404

Middle Level Learning supplement (MLL)

January/February 2007: No. 28

May/June 2007: No. 29

September 2007: No. 30

Index by Title

1889 Consular Dispatch from Baghdad,
Lee Ann Potter, 344

9/11 and Terrorism: "The Ultimate Teachable Moment" in Textbooks and Supplemental Curricula, Diana Hess and Jeremy Stoddard, 231

Academic Freedom and the Social Studies Teacher, NCSS Position Statement, 282

Advocating for Social Studies: Documenting the Decline and Doing Something about It, Katherine A. O'Connor, Tina Heafner, and Eric Groce, 255

All History is Local: Researching the Place Where You Live, John P. Dillon, MLL 30, 2-4

Archaeology in the Classroom: Using the "Dig Box" to Understand the Past, Amelia G. Chisholm, Mark P. Leone, and Brett T. Bentley, 272

Bringing Latin America to Life with Films in the Classroom, Harry E. Vanden, 177

Building Connections and Community: The Roles Self-Reflection and Technology Can Play in Tolerance and Democratic Education, John M.

Fischer, Grzegorz Mazurkiewicz, Zeb Kellough, and Jen Preslan, 153

Building the Relationships That Matter, Peggy Altoff, 4

The Carter G. Woodson Book Awards, 191

Chew Heong v. United States: Chinese Exclusion and the Federal Courts, Edited by James H. Landman, 360

Classroom Debates Made Easy, Kathleen M. Doyle, MLL 28, 7-10

Coal: An Energy Source to be Reckoned With, MLL 28, 16

Comparing International Textbooks to Develop Historical Thinking, John J. DeRose, 36

Congo: Elections and the Battle for Mineral Resources, Social Education Staff, 24

Connections to the Past: Creating Time Detectives with Archaeology, S. Kay Gandy, 267

The Constitution In Action, Lee Ann Potter, 224

Cool Websites and Other Technology Resources for Teaching about the United States Economy, Tawni Hunt Ferrarini and Joseph Calhoun, 87

The Course of the Republic: American Responses to Technology in the Nineteenth Century, Meghan McGlinn Manfra, 146

Crossing Borders and Building Bridges Using the Internet, C. Frederick Risinger, 380

"Degrees of Freedom": A Five-Part Framework for School Leadership, Sam Chaltain, 354

"Denmark 1943": Using Music to Teach Holocaust Rescue, David Lindquist, 316

Discovering Africa through Internet-based Geographic Information Systems: A Pan-African Summit Simulation, Andrew J. Milson, Kathleen M. Gilbert, and Brian D. Earle, 140

Exploring Complex Social Phenomena with Computer Simulations, Ilene R. Berson and Michael J. Berson, 136

Eyewitness Account of Dr. Robert King Stone, President Lincoln's Family Physician, Stacey Bredhoff, 99

The Flowering of Identity: Tracing the History of Cuba through the Visual Arts, Noel Smith, 182

For Kids, By Kids: Our City Podcast, Tony Vincent and Mark van't Hooft, 125

Ford: Not a Lincoln but a Hayes? A Lesson in History and Political Science, John A. Donnangelo, 105

The Founding Entrepreneurs: America's Prosperity, Gerald Gunderson, 66

From Banished to Brother Outsider: Miss Navajo to An Inconvenient Truth: Documentary Films as Perspective-Laden Narratives, Diana Hess, 194

The Great Communicator Files, Mira Cohen, 372

The Great Firewall of China, Shawn Healy, 158

- Great Zeus! Creating Greek Myth Cards*, John Marshall Carter, MLL 29, 16
- Guardians of the Past: Using Drama to Assess Learning in American History*, Charles F. Howlett, 304
- High-Stakes Testing: How Are Social Studies Teachers Responding?*, S. G. Grant, 250
- Historical Letters: Integrating History and Language Arts*, Kay A. Chick, MLL 29, 2-7
- History Matters: An Institutional Approach Examination of the U.S. Constitution*, Tawni Hunt Ferrarini and Mark C. Schug, 57
- How Robert Scheer's Playing President Might Help Remediate the Problem of Shallow Textbooks and Political Apathy*, Reviewed by James Michael Mamer, 48
- How to Teach about "Aligning Elections" Using the Internet*, C. Frederick Risinger, 292
- Humanities and the Social Studies: Studying the Civil War through the Third Space*, Trace Schillinger, 384
- An Idea Called America*, Michael Hartoonian, Richard Van Scotter, and William E. White, 243
- Intelligent Design*, NCSS Position Statement, 278
- King Coal: A Piece of Eastern Pennsylvania History*, Jill M. Beccaris and Christine Woysner, MLL 28, 11-15
- Learning Early Twentieth-Century History through First-Person Interviews*, Lisa A. Lark, 308
- Learning History through the Universal Declaration of Human Rights*, Hilary Landorf and Martha Fernanda Pineda, 322
- Letter by Stephen Decatur and Painting by Thomas Chambers Related to the War of 1812*, Lee Ann Potter and Elizabeth K. Eder, 208
- Life Behind the Wall: Palestinian Students Online*, Doug Hart, 44
- Listen Up: Studying the American Labor Movement Through Oral Histories*, Cheryl Mason Bolick, Lisa Norberg, and Dayna Durbin, 130
- Media Construction of Presidential Campaigns*, Chris Sperry and Sox Sperry, 366
- NCSS Letter to Congress*, 108
- Nobel Peace Laureate Muhammad Yunus: A Banker Who Believes Credit is a Human Right*, Michelle Yvonne Szpara, Iftikhar Ahmad, and Patricia Velde Pederson, 9
- Notable Social Studies Trade Books for Young People 2007*, May/June Pullout Section
- Object Lessons: The Law of Cultural Property*, James H. Landman, 201
- October 1957 Memorandum Related to Sputnik*, Missy McNatt and David Traill, 332

Two new lesson plans on the U.S. justice system now available free at

WWW.AJS.ORG/HSC

Visit the site and download the free lesson plans (registration is required for access). The first lesson requires students to research and role play U.S. Supreme Court justices, act as their clerks, and develop arguments as opposing attorneys in a high school drug-testing case. Students learn how the Court works, its changing role through history, and its relationship to the other two branches. The lessons include a day planner, class notes, student rubrics and handouts, and excerpts on overheads for the majority and dissenting opinions from the real case.

The second lesson plan, titled Court Procedure, presents a simulation game about a murder. It requires students to role play witnesses, prosecuting and defense attorneys, detectives, CSI team members, jurors, a trial court judge, and other justice-system actors. As with the first lesson, detailed teacher notes, day planner, student rubrics, handouts, and links to resources are provided.

At the completion of this lesson, students will understand the rights of the accused; know the role of the players in the justice system; know the protections in the U.S. Constitution that apply to the accused; understand relevant legal terminology; and understand the impact of U.S. Supreme Court decisions on criminal procedure.

By the end of 2007, a third lesson plan illustrating the concepts of judicial independence and accountability will also be available.

For more information, contact Malia Reddick at mreddick@ajs.org. The American Judicature Society, founded in 1913, is a national, nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that, among other things, works to increase public understanding of the justice system and the role of courts and judges.

Online Interactive Mapping: Using the Panoramic Maps Collection, Marsha Alibrandi and Eui kyung Shin, MLL 30, 5-12

Out of Range: An Interview with Mark Tushnet on the Second Amendment, James H. Landman, 237

A Picture is Worth 20 Questions, William B. Russell III, MLL 30, 16

The Presidential Timeline of the 20th Century, Paul Resta, Betty S. Flowers, and Ken Tothoro, 115

Promoting Historic Preservation in the Classroom, Paul LaRue, 312

Protective Custody: Prisoner 34042, Reviewed by Sanford Gutman, 50

Puritan Day: A Social Science Simulation, Joan Brodsky Schur, 348

Reading in the Social Studies: Using Subtitled Films, Kerry Holmes, William B. Russell III, and Allison Movitz, 326

Researching the Viet Nam War Inside Viet Nam: U.S. Student Teachers Explore War Myths, Robert E. Vadas, 389

The Saffron Scourge: Society, Politics and Disease, Diane Luke and Ann Winkler, 40

A School-Wide Effort for Learning History via a Time Capsule, C. Glennon Rowell, M. Gail Hickey, Kendall Gecsei, and Stacy Klein, 261

Search and Seizure in the Schools, Kari Staros and Charles F. Williams, 27

Seeking Good Credit—And Keeping It, Katie Fraser, 92

Social Studies in the Era of No Child Left Behind, NCSS Position Statement, 284

Sounds Good to Me: Using Digital Audio in the Social Studies Classroom, George B. Lipscomb, Lisa Marie Guenther, and Perry McLeod, 120

Stories from Afar: Using Children's and Young Adult Literature to Teach about Latin America, Bárbara C. Cruz, 170

Supreme Court Preview, Charles F. Williams, 296

Teaching about Genocide in a New Millennium, James G. Brown, 21

Teaching Modern Latin America in the Social Science Curriculum: An Interdisciplinary Approach, Adriana Novoa, 187

'Toonin' into History: Online Collections of Political Cartoons, James M. Duran, MLL 29, 8-11

The U.S. Constitution: Rules of the Game, National Council on Economic Education, 82

Using Music to Teach about the Great Depression, Robert L. Stevens and Jared A. Fogel, 15

Venture Smith's Autobiography and Runaway Ad: Enslavement in Early New York, Alan J. Singer, MLL 28, 2-6

Weaving a Map: Making Global Connections Visible, Teresa Secules and Rhodis Thompson, MLL 29, 12-15

Website Potpourri, C. Frederick Risinger, 33

What Caused the Great Depression?, Jean Caldwell and Timothy G. O'Driscoll, 70

What I Learned at the NCSS Annual Meeting, C. Frederick Risinger, 248

What's in a Name? Investigating Whom to Memorialize, Arlene Girard and Mary Beth Henning, MLL 30, 13-15

Whatdunnit? The Great Depression Mystery, National Council on Economic Education, 75

Why Did the Colonists Fight When They Were Safe, Prosperous, and Free?, Mark C. Schug, 61

THE GILDER LEHRMAN INSTITUTE of AMERICAN HISTORY

Promoting the Study and Love of American History

History Teacher of the Year Award

The Gilder Lehrman Institute and Preserve America honor exceptional teachers of U.S. history from each state and U.S. territory. Winners receive $1,000 and an archive of history books, donated to their school's library.

History Now

www.historynow.org

Each issue of this quarterly online journal addresses a major theme in American history. The journal includes articles by leading scholars, lesson plans, links to related websites, bibliographies, and many other resources.

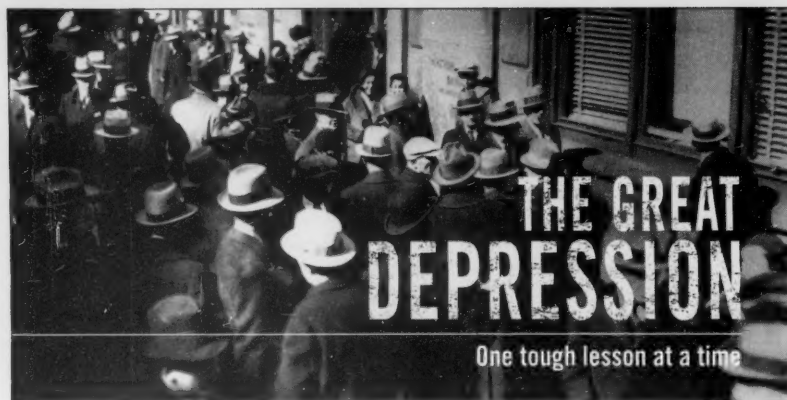

Summer Seminars for Teachers

Held internationally at colleges and universities, these competitive week-long seminars are designed to strengthen participants' commitment to high quality history education.

To learn more about our programs for educators and to purchase materials for your classroom, visit:

www.gilderlehrman.org

19 West 44th Street, Suite 500
New York, NY 10036

Order an exciting new curriculum from the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

Help students learn about breadlines, bank panics and Brother, Can You Spare a Dime? Six stand-alone lessons on the Great Depression include simulations, group work and other strategies to engage history, economics and government students. A complementary web site features art and music from the era and links to more sites.

To print a free copy of the curriculum, visit www.stlouisfed.org/greatdepression or visit the Federal Reserve exhibit at the NCSS annual conference for a CD of the curriculum.

In the beautiful mountains of Northern New Mexico
Dar al Islam Teachers Institute
A two-week Residential Institute for Educators

Understanding and Teaching About Islam

Teach about Islam more effectively by understanding the world view of Islam through the study of principal texts, through open discourse with academic and traditional scholars, and through interaction with Muslims.

Application Deadline: March 31, 2008

Participants pay for travel to New Mexico. The Institute provides required reading materials, room and board.

July 6 - 20, 2008
 Abiquiu, New Mexico

Option to earn 3 Graduate Credits at nominal cost

For more Institute info: www.daralislam.org/institute

Rehana Shafi, Director
 3019 Oak Green Circle, Apt. G
 Ellicott City, MD 21043
rbshafi@gmail.com (410) 493-3271

Index by Author

- Ahmad, Iftikhar, Michelle Yvonne Szpara, and Patricia Velde Pederson, Nobel Peace Laureate Muhammad Yunus: A Banker Who Believes Credit is a Human Right, 9
- Alibrandi, Marsha and Eui kyung Shin, Online Interactive Mapping: Using the Panoramic Maps Collection, MLL 30, 5-12
- Altoff, Peggy, Building the Relationships That Matter, 4
- Beccaris, Jill M. and Christine Woysner, King Coal: A Piece of Eastern Pennsylvania History, MLL 28, 11-15
- Bentley, Brett T., Amelia G. Chisholm, and Mark P. Leone, Archaeology in the Classroom: Using the "Dig Box" to Understand the Past, 272
- Berson, Ilene R. and Michael J. Berson, Exploring Complex Social Phenomena with Computer Simulations, 136
- Berson, Michael and Ilene R. Berson, Exploring Complex Social Phenomena with Computer Simulations, 136
- Bredhoff, Stacey, Eyewitness Account of Dr. Robert King Stone, President Lincoln's Family Physician, 99
- Brodsky Schur, Joan, Puritan Day: A Social Science Simulation, 348
- Brown, James G., Teaching about Genocide in a New Millennium, 21
- Caldwell, Jean and Timothy G. O'Driscoll, What Caused the Great Depression?, 70
- Calhoun, Joseph and Tawni Hunt Ferrarini, Cool Websites and Other Technology Resources for Teaching about the United States Economy, 87
- Carter, John Marshall, Great Zeus! Creating Greek Myth Cards, MLL 29, 16
- Chaltain, Sam, "Degrees of Freedom": A Five-Part Framework for School Leadership, 354

- Chick, Kay A., Historical Letters: Integrating History and Language Arts, MLL 29, 2-7
- Chisholm, Amelia G., Mark P. Leone, and Brett T. Bentley, Archaeology in the Classroom: Using the "Dig Box" to Understand the Past, 272
- Cohen, Mira, The Great Communicator Files, 372
- Cruz, Bárbara C., Stories from Afar: Using Children's and Young Adult Literature to Teach about Latin America, 170
- DeRose, John J., Comparing International Textbooks to Develop Historical Thinking, 36
- Dillon, John P., All History is Local: Researching the Place Where You Live, MLL 30, 2-4
- Donnangelo, John A., Ford: Not a Lincoln but a Hayes?, A Lesson in History and Political Science, 105
- Doyle, Kathleen M., Classroom Debates Made Easy, MLL 28, 7-10
- Duran, James M., 'Toonin' into History: Online Collections of Political Cartoons, MLL 29, 8-11
- Durbin, Dayna, Cheryl Mason Bolick, and Lisa Norberg, Listen Up: Studying the American Labor Movement Through Oral Histories, 130
- Earle, Brian D., Andrew J. Milson, and Kathleen M. Gilbert, Discovering Africa through Internet-based Geographic Information Systems: A Pan-African Summit Simulation, 140
- Eder, Elizabeth K. and Lee Ann Potter, Letter by Stephen Decatur and Painting by Thomas Chambers Related to the War of 1812, 208
- Fischer, John M., Grzegorz Mazurkiewicz, Zeb Kellough, and Jen Preslan, Building Connections and Community: The Roles Self-Reflection and Technology Can Play in Tolerance and Democratic Education, 153
- Flowers, Betty S. Paul Resta, and Ken Tothoro, The Presidential Timeline of the 20th Century, 115
- Fogel, Jared A., and Robert L. Stevens, Using Music to Teach about the Great Depression, 15
- Fraser, Katie, Seeking Good Credit—And Keeping It, 92
- Gandy, S. Kay, Connections to the Past: Creating Time Detectives with Archaeology, 267
- Gecsei, Kendall, C. Glenn Rowell, M. Gail Hickey, and Stacy Klein, A School-Wide Effort for Learning History via a Time Capsule, 261
- Gilbert, Kathleen M., Andrew J. Milson, and Brian D. Earle, Discovering Africa through Internet-based Geographic Information Systems: A Pan-African Summit Simulation, 140
- Girard, Arlene and Mary Beth Henning, What's in a Name? Investigating Whom to Memorialize, MLL 30, 13-15

Center for Civic Education

WE THE PEOPLE: THE CITIZEN AND THE CONSTITUTION

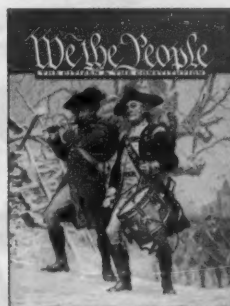

We the People teaches the history and principles of the U.S. Constitution and the Bill of Rights to upper elementary, middle, and high school students. This acclaimed program develops critical-thinking, problem-solving, and cooperative-learning skills. Students demonstrate knowledge of historical and contemporary issues during the culminating hearing.

WE THE PEOPLE: PROJECT CITIZEN

Created for middle, secondary, and post-secondary students, youth groups, and adults, Project Citizen promotes competent and responsible participation in government. Participants learn how to monitor and influence public policy.

FOR A FREE CATALOG CONTACT CENTER FOR CIVIC EDUCATION

800.350.4223 FAX 818.591.9330
5145 DOUGLAS FIR ROAD, CALABASAS, CA 91302
WWW.CIVICED.ORG

"The program gave me a new outlook on government and American life."

—2007 Student Participant

Encourage your students to apply for the Bill of Rights Institute's Constitutional Academy in Washington, D.C.!

Students will have the opportunity to:

- discuss current events and debate with their peers
- receive instruction from college professors
- and earn 3 units of college credit!

For selection criteria, visit www.BillofRightsInstitute.org/NCSS3!

200 N. Glebe Road, Suite 200, Arlington, VA 22203

Promoting better education about East Asia in the curriculum.

nctasia.org

THE NATIONAL CONSORTIUM FOR TEACHING ABOUT ASIA

NCTA offers teachers:

In-depth seminars on East Asia
Background materials
Professional stipends
Curriculum resources
Summer study tours in East Asia

NCTA has engaged more than 8,000 teachers in seminars in 46 states. Teachers are invited to take advantage of this exceptional, national, professional-development program.

Become involved with NCTA in your state!
Visit us at <http://www.NCTAsia.org>

Funded by the Freeman Foundation

Grant, S. G., High-Stakes Testing: How Are Social Studies Teachers Responding?, 250

Groce, Eric, Katherine A. O'Connor, and Tina Heafner, Advocating for Social Studies: Documenting the Decline and Doing Something about It, 255

Guenther, Lisa Marie, George B. Lipscomb, and Perry McLeod, Sounds Good to Me: Using Digital Audio in the Social Studies Classroom, 120

Gunderson, Gerald, The Founding Entrepreneurs: America's Prosperity, 66

Gutman, Sanford, Protective Custody: Prisoner 34042 (book review), 50

Hart, Doug, Life Behind the Wall: Palestinian Students Online, 44

Hartoonian, Michael, Richard Van Scotter, and William E. White, An Idea Called America, 243

Heafner, Tina, Katherine A. O'Connor, and Eric Groce, Advocating for Social Studies: Documenting the Decline and Doing Something about It, 255

Healy, Shawn, The Great Firewall of China, 158

Henning, Mary Beth and Arlene Girard, What's in a Name? Investigating Whom to Memorialize, MLL 30, 13–15

Hess, Diana, From Banished to Brother Outsider, Miss Navajo to An Inconvenient Truth: Documentary Films as Perspective-Laden Narratives, 194

Hess, Diana and Jeremy Stoddard, 9/11 and Terrorism: "The Ultimate Teachable Moment" in Textbooks and Supplemental Curricula, 231

Hickey, M. Gail, C. Glennon Rowell, Kendall Gecsei, and Stacy Klein, A School-Wide Effort for Learning History via a Time Capsule, 261

Holmes, Kerry, William B. Russell III, and Allison Movitz, Reading in the Social Studies: Using Subtitled Films, 326

- Howlett, Charles F., Guardians of the Past: Using Drama to Assess Learning in American History, 304
- Hunt Ferrarini, Tawni and Joseph Calhoun, Cool Websites and Other Technology Resources for Teaching about the United States Economy, 87
- Hunt Ferrarini, Tawni and Mark C. Schug, History Matters: An Institutional Approach Examination of the U.S. Constitution, 57
- Kellough, Zeb, John M. Fisher, Grzegorz Mazurkiewicz, and Jen Preslan, Building Connections and Community: The Roles Self-Reflection and Technology Can Play in Tolerance and Democratic Education, 153
- Klein, Stacy, C. Glennon Rowell, M. Gail Hickey, and Kendall Gecsei, A School-Wide Effort for Learning History via a Time Capsule, 261
- Landman, James H., ed., Chew Heong v. United States: Chinese Exclusion and the Federal Courts, 360
- Landman, James H., Object Lessons: The Law of Cultural Property, 201
- Landman, James H., Out of Range: An Interview with Mark Tushnet on the Second Amendment, 237
- Landorf, Hilary and Martha Fernanda Pineda, Learning History through the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 322
- Lark, Lisa A., Learning Early Twentieth-Century History through First-Person Interviews, 308
- LaRue, Paul, Promoting Historic Preservation in the Classroom, 312
- Leone, Mark P., Amelia G. Chisholm, and Brett T. Bentley, Archaeology in the Classroom: Using the "Dig Box" to Understand the Past, 272
- Lindquist, David, "Denmark 1943": Using Music to Teach Holocaust Rescue, 316
- Lipscomb, George B., Lisa Marie Guenther, and Perry McLeod, Sounds Good to Me: Using Digital Audio in the Social Studies Classroom, 120
- Luke, Diane and Ann Winkler, The Saffron Scourge: Society, Politics, and Disease, 40
- Mamer, James Michael, How Robert Scheer's Playing President Might Help Remediate the Problem of Shallow Textbooks and Political Apathy (book review), 48
- Mason Bolick, Cheryl, Lisa Norberg, and Dayna Durbin, Listen Up: Studying the American Labor Movement Through Oral Histories, 130
- Mazurkiewicz, Grzegorz, John M. Fischer, Zeb Kellough, and Jen Preslan, Building Connections and Community: The Roles Self-Reflection and Technology Can Play in Tolerance and Democratic Education, 153
- McGlinn Manfra, Meghan, The Course of the Republic: American Responses to Technology in the Nineteenth Century, 146
- McLeod, Perry, George B. Lipscomb, and Lisa Marie Guenther, Sounds Good to Me: Using Digital Audio in the Social Studies Classroom, 120
- McNatt, Missy and David Traill, October 1957 Memorandum Related to Sputnik, 332
- Milson, Andrew J., Kathleen M. Gilbert, and Brian D. Earle, Discovering Africa through Internet-based Geographic Information Systems: A Pan-African Summit Simulation, 140
- Movitz Allison, Kerry Holmes, and William B. Russell III, Reading in the Social Studies: Using Subtitled Films, 326
- National Council on Economic Education, The U.S. Constitution: Rules of the Game, 82
- National Council on Economic Education, Whatdummit? The Great Depression Mystery, 75
- Norberg, Lisa, Cheryl Mason Bolick, and Dayna Durbin, Listen Up: Studying the American Labor Movement Through Oral Histories, 130
- Novoa, Adriana, Teaching Modern Latin America in the Social Science Curriculum: An Interdisciplinary Approach, 187
- O'Connor, Katherine A., Tina Heafner, and Eric Groce, Advocating for Social Studies: Documenting the Decline and Doing Something about It, 255
- O'Driscoll, Timothy G. and Jean Caldwell, What Caused the Great Depression?, 70
- Pineda, Martha Fernanda and Hilary Landorf, Learning History through the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 322
- Potter, Lee Ann, 1889 Consular Dispatch from Baghdad, 344
- Potter, Lee Ann, The Constitution In Action, 224
- Potter, Lee Ann and Elizabeth K. Eder, Letter by Stephen Decatur and Painting by Thomas Chambers Related to the War of 1812, 208
- Preslan, Jen, John M. Fischer, Grzegorz Mazurkiewicz, and Zeb Kellough, Building Connections and Community: The Roles Self-Reflection and Technology Can Play in Tolerance and Democratic Education, 153
- Resta, Paul, Betty S. Flowers, and Ken Tothoro, The Presidential Timeline of the 20th Century, 115
- Risinger, C. Frederick, Crossing Borders and Building Bridges Using the Internet, 380
- Risinger, C. Frederick, How to Teach about "Aligning Elections" Using the Internet, 292
- Risinger, C. Frederick, Website Potpourri, 33
- Risinger, C. Frederick, What I Learned at the NCSS Annual Meeting, 248

Rowell, C. Glennon, M. Gail Hickey, Kendall Gecsei, and Stacy Klein, A School-Wide Effort for Learning History via a Time Capsule, 261

Russell III, William B., A Picture is Worth 20 Questions, MLL 30, 16

Russell III, William B., Kerry Holmes, and Allison Movitz, Reading in the Social Studies: Using Subtitled Films, 326

Schillinger, Trace, Humanities and the Social Studies: Studying the Civil War through the Third Space, 384

Schug, Mark C., Why Did the Colonists Fight When They Were Safe, Prosperous, and Free?, 61

Schug, Mark C. and Tawni Hunt Ferrarini, History Matters: An Institutional Approach Examination of the U.S. Constitution, 57

Secules, Teresa and Rhodis Thompson, Weaving a Map: Making Global Connections Visible, MLL 29, 12-15

Shin, Eui kyung and Marsha Alibrandi, Online Interactive Mapping: Using the Panoramic Maps Collection, MLL 30, 5-12

Singer, Alan J., Venture Smith's Autobiography and Runaway Ad: Enslavement in Early New York, MLL 28, 2-6

Smith, Noel, The Flowering of Identity: Tracing the History of Cuba through the Visual Arts, 182

Social Education Staff, Congo: Elections and the Battle for Mineral Resources, 24

Sperry, Chris, and Sox Sperry, Media Construction of Presidential Campaigns, 366

Sperry, Sox, and Chris Sperry, Media Construction of Presidential Campaigns, 366

Staros, Kari and Charles F. Williams, Search and Seizure in the Schools, 27

Stevens, Robert L. and Jared A. Fogel, Using Music to Teach about the Great Depression, 15

Stoddard, Jeremy and Diana Hess, 9/11 and Terrorism: "The Ultimate Teachable Moment" in Textbooks and Supplemental Curricula, 231

Szpara, Michelle Yvonne, Iftikhar Ahmad, and Patricia Velde Pederson, Nobel Peace Laureate Muhammad Yunus: A Banker Who Believes Credit is a Human Right, 9

Thompson, Rhodis and Teresa Secules, Weaving a Map: Making Global Connections Visible, MLL 29, 12-15

Tothero, Ken, Paul Resta, and Betty S. Flowers, The Presidential Timeline of the 20th Century, 115

Traill, David and Missy McNatt, October 1957 Memorandum Related to Sputnik, 332

Vadas, Robert E., Researching the Viet Nam War Inside Viet Nam: U.S. Student Teachers Explore War Myths, 389

Van Scotter, Richard, Michael Hartoonian, and William E. White, An Idea Called America, 243

van't Hooft, Mark, and Tony Vincent, For Kids, By Kids: Our City Podcast, 125

Vanden, Harry E., Bringing Latin America to Life with Films in the Classroom, 177

Velde Pederson, Patricia, Michelle Yvonne Szpara, and Iftikhar Ahmad, Nobel Peace Laureate Muhammad Yunus: A Banker Who Believes Credit is a Human Right, 9

Vincent, Tony and Mark van't Hooft, For Kids, By Kids: Our City Podcast, 125

White, William E., Michael Hartoonian, and Richard Van Scotter, An Idea Called America, 243

Williams, Charles F., Supreme Court Preview, 296

Williams, Charles F. and Kari Staros, Search and Seizure in the Schools, 27

Winkler, Ann and Diane Luke, The Saffron Scourge: Society, Politics and Disease, 40

Woyshner, Christine and Jill M. Beccaris, King Coal: A Piece of Eastern Pennsylvania History, MLL 28, 11-15

JAMES MADISON GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE UP TO $24,000

Available to secondary school teachers of American history, American government or social studies to undertake a master's degree program emphasizing the roots, principles, framing and development of the U.S. Constitution.

Fellowships pay the actual cost of tuition, fees, books, and room and board.

For information and to download an application, visit www.jamesmadison.gov.

General inquiries can be sent to Madison@ACT.org, or call
1-800-525-6928
James Madison Memorial Fellowship
Foundation

